April 20, 1971.

Dear Jimmy,

Iam just going to write you a short note as i talked to Mr. Stoner last night and he told me about the letter he received down there concering you putting off talking to McMillan at the present time, Stoner requested that i write you a reply to it.

Its up to you weather you want to talk to him or not, but the offer is only good for a short period of time as his Book is supposed to be published in four months.

Imagine you received McMillan letter concering his offer of 5 thousand plus stating that he dont want to talk to you about anything that happened after you excaped from Jefferson City.

I figure on arriving back in Savannah Saturday April 24, And ill stay there working for Mr. Stoner until august.

After that i think ill come back to St,Louis and seek Employment.

Ill close for now and get this in the mail.

Dearest regards

Jack.

As Ever

Jerry.

Wrong Address on Ray's Gift

A package sent to James Earl Ray, convicted killer of Martin Luther King Jr. had the right cell number but the wrong jail.

Police Lt. Bill Major said the package, apparently a book, was addressed to Ray at City Jail Block 3, Cell 10, Knoxville, Tenn. The package, from a woman in Cleveland, Miss., was forwarded to Brushy Mountain State Prison in Petros where Ray is serving a life sentence.
